Hi Jennifer!

Enclosed photo cards
as promised. Retail value has been upwards of $7.00
@

I'm currently writing
a book of reflections/poems, which will also include my artwork and photos. I'm hoping to have it completed within the next couple of months.

"Wanted Man" is one that will be featured in the book.

Unexpectedly

*I caught a glimpse of you today
while I skipped a beat walking down the street.
I struggled with memories
of days before I knew you.*

*Sometimes I catch myself thinking
I wonder how you found me.
I did not seek you out.
I got out of bed one day
and there you were.
I didn't invite you in
but you had settled within.*

*The world is round
yet here I am bound
and constrained.*

*At times I feel like a prisoner.
A wanted man
with a number on my back visible for all to see,
there will be no hiding from you.*

*Wishing it were different
will not change a thing I know.
Better to focus on the reality of living fully while I can.*

*I don't want to be reminded of how it used to be.
For all of us an end will come
like a period at the end of a sentence.
How we arrive there is the real story.*

*It's when I see you I realize I want to be on another path
and still another journey.
Yet, here we are together
an odd couple,
where you won't relinquish
your hold over me.*

*There is no hiding from you.
Wherever I go,
you're there with me
and always will be.
Although I still struggle with that.*

*I thought of you today
not because I wanted to.*

Dedicated to all those people who have a medical challenge.
